

2012 Third Age Programs

Language Tours for Active Adults

ELC Los Angeles, Boston and Santa Barbara offer a unique program designed for more mature students. The Third Age Program gives students the opportunity to experience life in two of the most beautiful areas of the US while learning about their rich culture and history. Participants in the program will have General English classes each morning with other ELC students and afternoon and evening activities of high cultural and historical interest, well-suited for the mature student. Participants live with an American host family in a single room. They may also choose a shared room when traveling with a partner. Weekend excursions allow students to tour the region; The ELC Boston program is scheduled so students can tour and enjoy the famous Indian Summer in New England. The ELC Los Angeles program is scheduled for an early taste of summer in Southern California. The ELC Santa Barbara program is scheduled so students can escape the cold winter for sunny sandy beaches.

Program Includes:

- 20 lessons of General English per week, joined with other ELC students
- Three afternoon activities per week
- One all day excursion
- Homestay accommodation, single room, half-board
- ELC Certificate of Completion

Supplements:

- Furnished Apartment or Pension, walking distance from school (additional fee)
