Description of area and city

Dublin is the capital and the largest city of the Republic of Ireland, located near the midpoint of Ireland's east coast, at the mouth of the River Liffey. Originally founded as a centre of Viking settlement, the city has been Ireland's capital city since medieval times.

Dublin has a population of about 1.2 million, with over 50% of them under the age of 27 years old, making it a lively and exciting city. In 2003, in a survey carried out by Pfizer, Ireland was judged to be the most content country in Europe, with Dublin being voted best capital city.

The DSE is located in the centre of the city in the Temple Bar area. Temple Bar is the cultural quarter of Dublin, with narrow cobbled streets and a plenty of shops, bars, restaurants and other cultural attractions. At night it has a lively and young nightlife.
